What impact do you think theatre can have on our lives and what you consider to be its instrumental value (i.e. the way theatre can be used in particular settings rather than theatre as art or entertainment)?

Theatre is a "noble" art that has always told mankind about stories and the poets' imagination. Theatre is life and can only do you well in any context you bring it.

What strategies do you use and how do you work with hard to reach groups or people who are not usually engaged with theatre or who might be reluctant to take part?

Theatre and Working with visually impaired people

Describe any experience you have had of working with visually impaired people either with theatre or in some other capacity.

How was working with visually impaired people (if there was such work) different to the way you would normally work?

What impact has working with visually impaired young people (if there was such work) had on your own practice?
